Come and Learn All We Must Know About AIDS & TB March 8

Several years ago, in memory of one of its vice presidents, Joyce Kagan, the Women's Evening Group instituted an annual lecture series at Park Avenue Synagogue under the general heading, "Staying Vital in the 90's." By inviting medical experts to discuss important health issues and to answer questions, the issues surrounding breast cancer and reconstructive surgery were dealt with in the first two programs in this ongoing series.

The third lecture in this series, to which the congregation and the community are urged to attend, will take place on Monday, March 8th when Dr. Ilona W. Surick will discuss "AIDS & TB: Each a Woman's Health Issue."

Dr. Surick is a medical epidemiologist with the Office of AIDS Surveillance of the New York City Department of Health.

She is a graduate, summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa, of the Boston University six year program in medicine, with a major in medical science and a minor in philosophy. She received her medical degree from the Boston University Medical School and a master's degree in public health from the Columbia University School of Public Health, with a concentration in general public health.

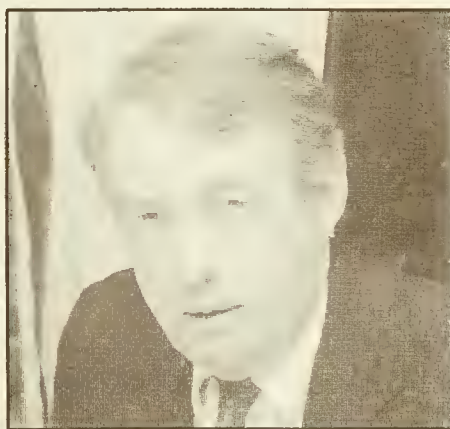

She also has done postgraduate training in preventive medicine and public health and has taught, written, and lectured on public health issues.

Dr. Surick is an articulate speaker, knowledgeable about HIV infection and the spread of both AIDS and tuberculosis. She will discuss these infectious diseases especially as they impact on women, supplying vital and correct information, and will answer questions.

Come and learn. Bring your children and your friends. AIDS and TB are women's as well as men's health issues and unfortunately will continue to be so well into the future. Only with knowledge can we win the battle against these modern day plagues.

Charles Hynes Will Be the Guest Speaker at the Men's Club Friday Night Service on March 12

The annual Men's Club Friday Night Service will take place on Friday evening, March 12th. Charles J. Hynes, Kings County's district attorney, will be the Men's Club's guest speaker that evening. He will speak on "A View of Criminal Justice and Race Relations in New York City" and will draw upon his valuable experiences in the Howard Beach, Bensonhurst, and Crown Heights cases.

Charles J. Hynes has been Kings County's district attorney since January 1, 1990. Soon after assuming office, he set up specialty bureaus for civil rights and domestic violence, launched a law-related education program for school children to fight bias and drugs, and a drug treatment alternative-to-prison program for non-violent addicts. He used money seized from drug dealers to fund a Cash for Guns Buyback Program which was subsequently implemented citywide. In 1991, he reorganized the Office of the Brooklyn District Attorney, which handles 75,000 cases annually, to enhance investigation and prosecution.

Hynes began public service in 1963 as an associate attorney at the Brooklyn Legal Aid Society. After several years in private practice, in 1969, he was appointed an assistant district attorney in Brooklyn. In September, 1970, he was named chief of the Rackets Bureau and in 1971, he led the "Gold Bug" prosecution of the Luchese crime family that resulted in 125 convictions and led to an investigation of police corruption in the 13th Plainclothes Division that resulted in 22 convictions.

In January 1975, he took office as special state

March 27th Music Service Features New Compositions By Our Cantors

At the 17th Annual Sarah and Samuel Shapiro Shabbat Morning Liturgical Music Service on March 27th, beginning at 9:15 A.M., Cantor David Lefkowitz will lead our congregation in another of our series of "classical" liturgical music services. This year's service will include a new Musaph Kedusha composed by Cantor Ira S. Bigeleisen and the composition will feature our cantors singing in duet. The service also will include the premiere of a new Sim Shalom setting for cantor and choir, with a congregational refrain melody, by Cantor David Lefkowitz. In addition, Cantor Lefkowitz will chant his Modim composition which encompasses both Modim prayers, sung antiphonally with two soloists and a double choir. This work, which includes organ, harp, flute and oboe, was featured at the Cantors Assembly Convention last spring.

Rabbi David H. Lincoln and Cantor Lefkowitz will conduct the service, with our renowned conductor Abraham Kaplan preparing the 18-voice chorus, accompanied by our distinguished organist Neil Robinson.

This annual "classical" service, which has brought to light hundreds of unknown masterpieces from the past, was conceived by Cantor Lefkowitz and Abraham Kaplan and first inaugurated in March of 1977. The concept was immediately and enthusiastically received by Mr. George M. Shapiro, who, together with his wife, Rita, has sponsored the project since its inception.

Over the years, our congregation has been acclaimed internationally for the contribution which the music and the recordings from these services have made in educating the larger Jewish community to the enormous heritage of Sabbath morning liturgical music — a heritage that is so rich in diversity, quality, and creative religious expression.

The congregation at large is invited to participate in this inspiring service. So mark the date on your calendar. It is also a wonderful opportunity to bring your friends to our synagogue, which is truly unique in so many ways.

The service will be followed by a gala kiddush-reception sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. George M. Shapiro in honor of the artists.

"Purim — Antidote to Yom Kippur"

Purim is approaching quickly! As the Shabbat of March 6th ends, we begin the merriment and joy of reading the Megillah and reliving the story of Esther, Mordechai, and Haman. Hamantashen will be in abundance, the synagogue will be filled with costumed children (and adults!), and the grinding noises of the groggers will be heard everywhere as we remind ourselves once again of how we escaped annihilation long ago in the Persian city of Shushan.

The story is one we know well; most of us have dressed up as Esther or Mordechai, or if we dared, as the evil Haman. We know that the Jews triumphed in this story; that though the evil decree was proclaimed against us, we ended up being the vanquishers and not the victims.

Knowing the story as we do, it may come as a surprise to us that a number of rabbis are uncomfortable with the story of Purim and, indeed, don't enjoy celebrating it at all. Their discomfort lies primarily in the end of the story where the Megillah tells us that while defending themselves against annihilation, the Jews killed 800 people in the city of Shushan and 75,000 more in the other provinces of King Ahasuerus. (Proof of this discomfort may be seen in the fact that in some translations of the Megillah, these numbers are not even translated!)

Needless to say, the Jewish people do not take delight in the death of human beings, even those who have persecuted us. Nor do I think the Megillah takes delight in the deaths that occur in its pages. The people rejoice (and we imitate them in our celebration of Purim), not because they have killed, but because they have been saved from disaster, been rescued from annihilation. That is the reason for their merriment.

They have lived through dangerous times and they have defeated tyrants.

It seems to me that Purim may be seen in another light as well. Purim is our most riotous Jewish celebration and among our happiest holidays (along with Sukkot and Simhat Torah). It provides a counterbalance to our most solemn holy day, Yom Kippur, and our saddest observance, Tisha B'Av, which marks the destruction of the Jerusalem Temples and a whole way of life. We are so fortunate to have Purim in our calendar. We are so blessed that our ancestors, in their wisdom, chose to include Purim among our Jewish celebrations. Because it is in the combination of our holidays — the solemn and the riotous, the sad and the joyous — that we find the full expression of what it means to be a Jew and what it means to be a human being. With Purim in our calendar — along with Yom Kippur — we can experience the full range of human emotions as we go through the Jewish calendar. That, it seems to me, is a richness of our tradition that we should never want to lose!

A happy, joyous Purim to all!

— Rabbi Melissa Crespy
